

"OUTLAW" STRIKE HAS SPREAD TO SEVERAL OTHERS CITIES

Not Over 25,000 Railroad Men are on Strike, But Thousands in Industries are out as a Result

No Food Received in New York City Today but Milk, None Predicted For Tomorrow

(By United Press)

The outlaw strike of railroad employees continued to spread today although the situation was reported easier in Chicago, the headquarters of the insurgent organization.

The strike extended to Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Pittsburgh, Columbus, Ohio, Youngstown and other railroad centers.

In New York the striking yard men and switchmen were joined by firemen. Suburban service was partly crippled, railroad officials admitted. The officials were making every effort to keep through trains running. Trainmen on the Hudson Tube connecting New Jersey and New York also walked out.

Railroad managers and representatives of the railroad brotherhoods who are fighting the "rump" strike, declared that they expect to be able to break the strike. They announced that several crews, that were first to strike in Chicago, had returned to work.

Thousands of men were unable to obtain fuel and raw material.

While food supplies in practically all cities affected by the strike was sufficient to last, at the latest, until the end of next week, a serious shortage was predicted in many places if the strike is not broken by that date.

Food prices were raised in some sections in anticipation of a shortage.

Dealers reported that practically the only food received in New York today was milk. Employees of the milk companies took the place of the yardmen and unloaded the cars. Fear was expressed that the entire milk supply would be cut off tomorrow as a result of the firemen's strike.

Strike Spreads Some Places—Improving Elsewhere

Chicago, April 10—The nation wide strike of the "outlaw" railroad yardmen spread today despite reports here that strikers had returned to work in several places and other cities report the workers are remaining loyal.

The first break in the outlaw ranks came today when the switchmen and other strikers employed on the Rock Island returned to work at Kansas City. It was also reported here employees in St. Paul and Minneapolis, Denver, Little Rock and other places were remaining loyal to the union.

Union leaders expressed confidence the strike was breaking. They said that new strikes were over late today and that the men will be returning by night.

That the union leaders may have correctly diagnosed all indications, the officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul roads announced that they expect to lift the embargo on freight shipments Monday.

Strike leaders denied claims that the strike had been broken. They said a number of new men had walked out. So far middle west passenger traffic is undisturbed.

Railroad executives report improvement in the situation on the Chicago and Northwestern, the Burlington, the Erie, the Santa Fe and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroads.

Strikers Return to Work

Kansas City, Mo., April 10—The first break in the "rump" railroad strike here came today with return to work of the Rhode Island switchmen and the Kansas City terminal firemen and engineers.

2000 Will Strike at Cleveland

Cleveland, Ohio April 10—More than 2,000 yard workers will strike here this afternoon, it was indicated today, when the night shift voted to strike. E. S. Ingalls, general manager of the

New York Central lines here issued a statement saying he would not negotiate with the workers.

C. B. & Q. Accepts Shipments

St. Paul, April 10—The C. B. & Q. railroad announced today that it would accept shipments of all kinds for delivery on their own tracks but not for delivery to other lines. The Burlington was accepting shipments in St. Paul and Chicago, Peoria, Kansas City Omaha, and other points by providing that delivery of the goods must be from Burlington tracks. Other lines from St. Paul announced no change in previous embargo.

Traffic Tied Up on Milwaukee

Milwaukee, April 10—All traffic in the Milwaukee and Northwestern yards is tied up today.

900 men, formerly members of the Switchmen's union of North America and Brotherhood Railroad Trainmen have been tied up in the Chicago yard men association within the last few days.

Men Return at Los Angeles

Los Angeles, April 10—According to officials of the Santa Fe here the first break in the ranks of the striking switchmen occurred today when several returned to work. They report engines in the yards began to move and predict that several on that road will be operating before night.

I. W. W. Fosters Strike

St. Paul, April 10—W. T. Tyler, vice president of the Northern Pacific railroad in a statement here today declared he has positive proof that the unauthorized strike of railroad switchmen and yard men is fostered by the I. W. W.

Railroad Brotherhood, and regular switchmen's union, are directly behind the "outlaw" strike which has swept the country from coast to coast. S. E. Heberling, president of the Switchmen's union of North America, charged in an interview today.

The radicals, Heberling said, "are desperately fanning the fire of wrath among railroad employees against their leaders in an effort to keep alive the strike and wreck organized labor," he said. "Such success would mean that one big union would get control of all railroad unions," Heberling charged.

The wrath of the strikers, Heberling said, was caused by a combination of circumstances.

The men were asked by the government to postpone their demand for an increase in wages until an opportunity had been given them to bring down the cost of living and thereby not necessitate an increase he said.

"As the men waited and waited the cost of living kept going up and the wages stood still. The radicals got in their work. They spread poison among the boys and this is the result. There is not a doubt about I. W. W. and radical unions being behind this union. The strikers demand for an increase is approximately the same amount they had up with the railroad administration.

It is just an attempt to stir up trouble and get control away from the regular organized labor leaders," Heberling said.

John Burroughs Chopping Wood on 83rd Birthday to Make Maple Syrup

With thirty-three of his closest friends, John Burroughs, noted naturalist and author celebrated his eighty-third birthday strenuously at Yama Farms, near Napanoch, N. After breakfast he chopped wood, drew sap from a maple tree, boiled it over an open fire built from the wood he had just chopped and made syrup for dinner, planted a

Dissension Among Allies on French Occupation Policy

British Threaten to Withdraw from Supreme Council if Marshal Foch's Policy is Continued HENRY WOOD.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) Paris, April 10—Recent events have demonstrated that the allied alliance must be regulated if Germany is to be held to the terms of the treaty of Versailles, the French foreign office said today after considering Great Britain's reply to the French note on the occupation of the Rhine cities.

"The life of the treaty hangs in the balance," officials declared. The British threat to withdraw from the council of ambassadors if France persists in following the policy of Marshal Foch "going it alone" in the enforcement of France's interpretation of the treaty, was received with bitterness in many quarters. The French characterized discord at this time as "particularly unfortunate."

The entente needs to undergo a thorough house cleaning, officials said. It needs to formulate a positive policy toward Germany, they declared. France favors a new series of allied discussions, to review relations with Germany and evolve a definite program to fill in union.

The French, the foreign office indicated, will reply to the British communication, asserting that she kept the allies thoroughly informed as to her intention, and was forced to act and occupy the Rhine cities to assure her own safety.

The French reply will reiterate France's regret that the allies did not see fit to participate in the occupation, and will renew France's desire for cooperation, it was said.

France Promises To Take No Action Alone Hereafter

But Will Obtain Consent of All Allies in Enforcing Versailles Treaty

By HENRY WOOD

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) Paris, April 10—France can not accept Germany's word that she will remove troops from the neutral zone, unless adequate guarantee is given to France, Premier Millerand said today in his reply to the British note protesting France's occupation of the Rhine cities.

"France pledges herself, hereafter, to obtain the consent of the allies on all questions pertaining to the execution of the peace treaty," Millerand said.

The Premier pointed out France was confronted with Germany's repeated failure to obey the terms of the Versailles pact in payment of reparations, delivery of war guilty, delay in coal deliveries, naval and land disarmament.

"Has England properly measured the full danger of these successive and systematic violations?" France, today, is obliged to cry, "we have had enough."

The Premier said: "It is her purpose to see through equally a solution on such great world questions as Russia, the Baltic, and Asia Minor. France pledges herself, before acting hereafter, to obtain the consent of her allies on all of the questions concerning the execution of the peace treaty."

Motion to Send Measure Back to Committee is Defeated by 177 to 222

(United Press)

Senate Preparing for Struggle Over Peace Resolution

L. C. MARTIN,

(United Press Correspondent.) Washington, April 10—Senate leaders today were preparing for a long and bitter struggle over the peace resolution passed late yesterday by the house.

Senator Lodge, chairman of the foreign relations committee, said he would call the committee to a conference on the measure as early as next week. Senator Knox, republican, and Hitchcock, the ranking democratic member of the committee, have left Washington, and the date of Hitchcock's return at least is not definite. Lodge said he would wait until Knox gets back, but did not promise to hold off until Hitchcock returns.

Lodge and other republican leaders expect the resolution to pass eventually by a small vote. But the margin is so narrow that a change of one or two in the next week would spell defeat.

Some of the so-called "mild reservationists" have begun a series of political manoeuvres which if successful, will result in the "mild reservationists" voting against the resolution. If the democrats will oppose almost solidly, according to Hitchcock, and other administration leaders, the mild reservationists control the situation.

Arguments on the constitutionality for, or the right of democrats to pass such legislation, promises to consume many days and more time probably will be used in going over the old treaty ground. Opponents of the league of nations plan to use France's inaction as an example of an alleged failure of the league to function in an emergency.

Hitchcock plans to offer the league covenant as an amendment to the resolution in an effort to embarrass the republicans. The republicans will come back by presenting the treaty as an amendment, and demanding that they go on record for or against accepting the peace treaty separate from the covenant.

Noted Woman Author Enters Politics

By HAROLD JACOBS

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) New York, April 10—Mary Robert Rinehart, noted writer, who has entered politics as a candidate for district delegate to the republican national convention from her home near Pittsburgh, was asked today to state her views as a representative American woman on the political situation.

Summed up they are: This is one of the most critical periods in the country's history. The nation faces a vital, necessary industrial and economic adjustment in which every man, woman and child must aid.

Autocracy of the mass, is as bad as autocracy of class. A strong emotion which prevails in the country is the fear of radicalism. The people must shake off lethargy and realize that they are the government."

Home Garden Pests

The insects which prey upon the home garden increase the cost of living and add to the gardener's labors, both in town and country. They must be fought skillfully to be exterminated.

III. HOW TO OUTWIT CUTWORMS.

Cutworms are larvae of caterpillars of common night-flying moths. The larvae have the habit of curling up in a roll when disturbed. Those which cause the most trouble live through the winter as part grown larvae. Hungry after their winter fast, they attack the plants near which they passed the winter. Some chew the foliage, but many of them eat through the stem and cut off the entire plant, either just above or just below the ground.

To control cutworms, the land to be used for a garden must be plowed or spaded in the fall. Plowing and cultivating well, starting early in the spring, will help, but fall plowing is preferable. Protecting the plants set out on wormy soil by a tight collar of paper or tin will prevent the cutworms getting at the stems. The cutworms may also be killed and the plants protected by using a poison bait of bran and paris green. The amount of bran necessary is taken and then paris green is sprinkled over the material and stirred until the bran takes on a light green color. The object is to have every flake of bran with some paris green on it. Then just enough strong molasses and water, at the rate of two quarts to four gallons of water, is used to moisten the mixture of bran and paris green but not to make a mash of it. The whole is mixed thoroughly and placed in small bunches over the garden near the plants to be protected.

Andaman Islands Fishing Methods.

The use of weirs or garths has been introduced in to the Andaman Islands: At Port Blair, the great convict settlement, the prisoners erect across the mouth of the creeks similar wooden traps or weirs to those used in Maine for catching herring, but they are not a fixture, but are periodically moved from creek to creek, because after a time the fish grow wary and avoid the spot where they have seen their kind disappear. The sein fish, a kind of salmon, is caught in this way. Here deep-sea fishing is almost out of the question by reason of the strong current and heavy seas.

WOMAN'S REALM

MRS. W. H. GEMMELL

Attended April Board Meeting of League of Women Voters in Minneapolis

Mrs. W. H. Gemmell returned Friday from the April board meeting of the League of Women Voters held at the headquarters Mayers Arcade, in Minneapolis. The meeting was largely attended by board members from all parts of the state. The meeting occupied the entire day relieved only by the luncheon held at Dayton's Tea Rooms. An after-luncheon speech was given by Mrs. Elizabeth Hall, assistant superintendent of the Minneapolis schools. Mrs. Hall asked that the League of Women Voters get behind all bills which stand for expansion of equal educational opportunity for all. She said that state laws provide for compulsory education for children only between the ages of eight and sixteen and that more should be done to bring educational opportunities to ages both below and above those stated.

Miss Hall made a strong plea that the women recognize the present critical educational crisis. Minnesota is facing a serious situation. During and since the war the higher prices have forced many teachers out of the profession, and others have been attracted by better opportunities in other lines. Fewer are enrolling in normal schools.

Miss Hall in a few words gave a touching account of the aspirations of some teachers and of how they since have reached their limit. Raise in room rent among other items of expense in forcing them in Minneapolis to a mode of living not keeping with their position as educators. She said that as a body the devotion of teachers to their profession is amazing. That many who have left it would gladly come back if they could afford to. They miss the children. They love them. The influence of a good teacher in the formation of character is beyond measurement. The position of a teacher is honorable and no man is too big to occupy it. Miss Hall believes in the principle of equal pay for equal work not only because it is just but because women have others depending upon them even as men.

For the sake of the children, for the sake of democracy and the state more than for the sake of the teacher. Miss Hall pleaded for the right wage scale for educators. The new State Board is looked to, to present a reasonable program, so that, although there is always a justifiable amount of migration among teachers, the teachers in general may not need to say they have had to leave Minnesota.

Resolutions recommending consideration of the above subject to the women of the state were passed at the afternoon meeting.

Anderson-Royky

Mrs. Minnie Anderson and Leon E. Royky, both of Sioux City, Iowa, were married at 10:20 Thursday evening by Rev. E. A. Cooke at the Methodist parsonage. Mr. Royky is the clarinet player in the Park Theatre orchestra. After locating in Brainerd he sent for his bride and she arrived in the city Thursday.

The wedding ceremony occurred shortly after the show at the New Park was over. Happy as turtle doves, they will go to housekeeping and make their home in Brainerd.

Mr. Royky was a member of the ship band of the U. S. S. Henderson and played under Bandmaster W. F. Palmer, now director of the Brainerd Municipal band and the latter was instrumental in getting him to remove to Brainerd.

May the lives of the newlyweds continue to be full of harmony and may they never have difficulty in getting "A flat."

Fawkes-Lively

The wedding of Roy G. Lively and Edna Louise Fawkes, both of Sylvan, was celebrated Wednesday at noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Fawkes. Rev. W. J. Lowrie of the Presbyterian church officiating.

The home was decorated in gold and white colors and a wedding lunch was served. Only the members of the immediate families were present.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fawkes who recently came from Iowa to make their home here in Minnesota and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lively.

The bride was prettily dressed and carried a bouquet of white roses. The young couple will make their home on the farm near to that of the groom's parents.

GAIL KANE

Gail Kane, the popular "movie" star, is thrilled with her work; she likes it, as the majority of the other silent drama players like it. When asked how she liked acting before the camera she said: "It is my very life. My whole soul is bound up in the silent drama."

Human Ravens.

There are human ravens who blight character as readily as they throw a pall over everything else. It hurts them to hear any one well spoken of. Their acquiescence for policy's sake is always checkmated with that suggestive and accusing "but." While posing as saviors of the world they are its rotten spot and badly need the knife. Instead of telling folks what a help you have been to the community they take delight in whispers that are more dangerous than outright condemnation. It never occurs to them that you may be a benefactor to men in spite of the fact that you do not represent their peculiar type of thought. In fact you may be infinitely above them as a community asset, but that makes no difference when they can get a sympathetic ear. There ought to be some way of making delayers of character make good, with apologies.

Don't Be a Grape Hanger.

It's easy to fall into the grape-hanging habit. Lack of initiative and sluggish or no thinking have put many a well-meaning chap into the drooping-mouth class. Then with the proper associations in depressing thought the way to muckrake levels is easy. Of course you don't want to be a groveling worm of the dust. Nobody ever does. But then there are few that by right are stars, though many more could be if they would pay the price. The way of progress is the way of toil. It's much easier to find fault with the fellow that's moving up than it is to do the moving yourself. So the only justification is to paint the other fellow dark. It's a contemptible trick, but there are many that do it.

CHURCH SURVEY
AIDS ALL CREEDS

Religious Data Sought From Jew, Gentile, Catholic and Protestant.

RAPID PROGRESS REPORTED.

Well Under Way in Most Counties and Completed in Nearly a Third of Minnesota.

Are you Jew or Gentile, Catholic or Protestant?

Whatever the answer, you are to be recorded in the church survey now being made in Minnesota. You need not hesitate in giving the information for it will not be made public.

This work is incidental to the Interchurch World Movement now under way. The work of obtaining this religious information in Minnesota is in charge of A. Z. Mann, survey leader, with headquarters at 211 Lumber Exchange, Minneapolis.

"The object of obtaining these facts is to assist us in learning the definite needs and desires along religious lines," said Mr. Mann. "In obtaining this information we have adopted a program of thorough preparation and accuracy rather than speed."

County chairmen for carrying on this work have been selected in 82 of the 86 Minnesota counties. County councils have been organized in 56 counties. There are 317 volunteer surveyors at work.

Reports to Mr. Mann show the following progress by percentages:

County leaderships elected, 95 per cent.
Organization completed, 65 per cent.
Individual counties in progress, 87 per cent.
Survey work reported complete, 29 per cent.
Range of survey progress in counties as indicated by county leaders' reports:

Complete or being tabulated, 5.
Counties over 75 per cent complete, 6.
Counties 50 per cent to 75 per cent complete, 7.
Counties 25 per cent to 50 per cent complete, 13.
Counties under 25 per cent complete, 55.

All denominations and creeds of whatever belief benefit by the survey, as information of value is given to the interested organization whether or not it is associated with the Interchurch World Movement.

CENTRAL SOUTH AMERICA IS MOST NEGLECTED SPOT

The greatest stretch of unevangelized territory in the world lies in the center of South America, including the interior of Brazil, Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, and Paraguay. An irregular territory some two thousand miles long and from five hundred to fifteen hundred miles in width, would only include two or three missionaries. In northern Brazil there are seven states, with populations ranging from that of Maine to that of New Jersey, with no foreign missionary.

In spite of the awful needs, as great in the interior of South America as in China or Africa, American mission boards do not support one hospital in all that continent.

There are about 200 missionaries, including wives, and 1,869 native workers, conscientiously but inadequately covering the field. The general average has been one evangelistic missionary for every 50,000 people.

The island world of Malaysia equals in total expanse the area of the United States. It is the largest and the most fertile undeveloped Asiatic territory, containing 873,000 square miles, with a population of 59,497,042. There are about 45,000,000 Moslems. To win these multitudes to Christ is the stupendous task which confronts the Christian Church in Malaysia.

The problem for Christianity in the Japanese Empire is to enlist the vision and energy of 75,723,500 progressive Asiatics in the cause of Christian democracy.

VI. SPRAY KILLS CABBAGE WORMS.

The adults of the velvety green worms which eat the leaves of cabbages and cauliflowers are the white butterflies which are so abundant during certain parts of the summer. These butterflies lay their eggs on the underside of the leaves, and from these eggs come the caterpillars.

Spraying the plants with arsenate of lead and water to which has been added a little dissolved soap will kill the worms. Dusting the leaves with pure arsenate of lead powder or with such powder diluted with alcohol-killed lime early in the morning when the dew is on, is also very effective. There is no danger from eating plants thus poisoned provided the cabbage is washed and prepared in the usual way by the housewife. With cauliflowers more care is needed to keep the poison confined to the leaf surfaces.—A. G. Ruggles, State Entomologist, University Farm, St. Paul.

CHANGED OCCUPATION

That the teaching profession is not as remunerative as once considered and has failed to follow the upward trend of wages is evidenced by this from the Pillager Herald:

"The principal of the Pillager schools now, and for the past several years, has purchased the Pillager pool hall and lunch room. After several years of preparation and study to hold down such a position as a school superintendent must be qualified for, he finds that the teaching profession is underpaid, and has naturally gone into a new line of work. This is only one case of many."

AN UNUSUAL WINTER

This winter of 1919-1920 will go down in local history as a most unusual one. Starting with inclement weather about the middle of October, cold weather held away for months and coal stoves are still going in April.

This brand of winter travels along like a piece of music-decked with a lot of "repeat from the beginning signs" and seems to trail along with no definite conclusion. However, this locality has not been singled out for such treatment. The whole United States has faced changed weather conditions.

"TAKING THINGS OVER"

A farmer writing to a city paper the other day made a good point, says the Mazonia Journal. He wanted to know why it is that the socialists always want to "take things over." They never build up or create, but after other people by their energy, sacrifices and enterprise establish some great industry, the socialists ask to "take it over" and utilize it. There is a wonderful lesson in this if it is reflected upon.

Mother Earth's Green Dress.

How many of us ever wonder why Mother Earth chose to dress in green? The earth was not always green. Once it was as naked as the moon; but there came a day when the weather grew cool enough to demand clothing and at that time, no doubt, our maternal planet began to look about to choose a color scheme for her dress. Why she chose green is not of record but that she chose it with her whole heart every pleasant place of creation testifies. Scientists explain that this is merely a natural phenomenon, the color being chlorophyll pigment, turned green by action of the sun. But why it did not turn blue, or red, or black, no scientist knows. About all we can say is that Mother Earth wanted a green dress, and she got it.

Home Garden Pests

¶ The insects which prey upon the home garden increase the cost of living and add to the gardener's labors, both in town and country. They must be fought skillfully to be exterminated.

IV. WHERE TO "GET" CABBAGE MAGGOTS.

The little maggot which gets into the roots of the cauliflower and some varieties of cabbage, causing the plants to wilt is the same insect which causes wormy radishes and burrows and discolors turnips and rutabagas. The adult is a little fly about the size of, and looking much like, the common house fly. These flies are found during the first three weeks in May and the first three weeks in July, when the eggs are laid which soon change into the maggots. These eggs are placed near the base of the plant and after hatching the maggots work their way under the soil and attack vegetable roots.

The best direct remedy known is poison bait spray put on before the flies have laid their eggs. No spray will reach the maggots. The time to use the fly spray is the first three weeks in May and the first three weeks in July. The material must be put on in the form of drops. The flies are attracted to these drops of liquid and many will be killed by the poison before the eggs are laid.

The bait consists of ½ of an ounce of arsenate of lead, ½ pint of molasses, and one gallon of water. The bait must be renewed once a week in good weather and two or three times during rainy weather.—A. G. Ruggles, State Entomologist, University Farm, St. Paul.

Home Garden Pests

¶ The insects which prey upon the home garden increase the cost of living and add to the gardener's labors, both in town and country. They must be fought skillfully to be exterminated.

V. WAY TO SAVE THE CURRANTS.

Current worms are the larvae of immature forms of a little four-winged fly. This fly is around about the time the leaves are coming out on the currants in the spring. The eggs are deposited on the under side of leaves along the midrib and usually on those leaves near the center of the bush. After these worms get their full size they drop to the ground and under old leaves or clods of dirt they transform and come out in July again as four-winged flies, to lay more eggs.

These worms are very easily controlled by spraying the leaves with any of the arsenical poisons, dry or liquid. If the berries are beginning to turn red when these worms are abundant it is better to use bellerose rather than the sprays like arsenate of lead or paris green. The bellerose does not stain the fruit and is not so poisonous to man.—A. G. Ruggles, State Entomologist, University Farm, St. Paul.

CONGRESS FAVORS WOMEN'S BUREAU

HOUSE LABOR COMMITTEE REPORTS APPROVAL OF THE PROPOSED PLAN.

OUTGROWTH OF WAR SERVICE

Thousands of Gentler Sex Took Places of Men Who Had Joined Army and Proved Their Efficiency and Competency at Various Tasks.
 By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—In response to a request from many organizations interested in the welfare of women, congress has made a start toward establishing a permanent women's bureau in the department of labor. A bill making provision for such an activity has been favorably reported to the house by the committee on labor. Congress as a whole seems well disposed toward the proposed legislation. A woman's bureau has been operating since July, 1918, as a temporary activity. For this fiscal year there is an appropriation of $40,000 which is being used to carry on investigations touching women in industry. The purpose of the legislation now proposed is to make statutory provision for the work which is being carried on under the $40,000 appropriation. In case the new bureau is established it will be its duty to do these things:

1. To consider the general policies with respect to women in industry and to advise the secretary of labor as to the policies which should be pursued.
 2. To keep informed of the work of the several divisions of the department insofar as they relate to women in industry and to advise with the divisions on all such work.

3. To secure information on all matters relating to women in industry and to collate such information into useful form.
 4. To establish useful connections with all governmental departments and divisions that have anything to do with this subject.

Result of War Service.

The demand for this new activity in the interest of women is the outgrowth of the service which the women of the country performed during the world war. During that war hundreds of thousands of them took the places of men who had joined the army, and did men's work. Their efficiency and competency were proven in every branch of industry. The organizations that are advocating the creation of a permanent bureau to guard the interests of the woman workers say that there are still hundreds of thousands of women occupying important places.

Among the organizations that are urging congress to create a permanent women's bureau are the following: National legislative committee of the Women's Trade Union league, National Consumers' league, the federal bureau of labor statistics, the women's executive committee of the national Republican committee, the women's bureau of the Democratic national committee, the industrial board of the national board of the Young Women's Christian association, the women's committee of the national Republican congressional committee, National Woman's Suffrage association, National League of Woman Voters, and the American Federation of Labor.

Since the temporary women's bureau was created two general state surveys of working conditions for women and several studies of conditions involving groups of women in special industries have been made. The temporary women's bureau has thus far obtained information on the actual working conditions of approximately 31,000 women employed in industries where the total number of employees in the industries under consideration numbered approximately 75,000.

Surveys Are Made.

The two largest groups of women, 12,000 and 18,000, were covered by state surveys made in Indiana and Virginia. In these two surveys conditions in the representative industries of the states where women were employed were the subject of investigation. The establishments covered included those manufacturing boots and shoes, costumes, clothing, drugs, food products, hosiery, leather goods, metal products, paper and paper products, pottery and glassware, rubber goods, textiles, wood products, printing establishments and laundries. In support of the request for legislation creating a permanent bureau it is argued that these two surveys have done much toward bettering the condition of the working women in the two states.

Whatever opposition there is to the creation of such a permanent bureau is based on the argument that in these days of excessive taxation congress should not be adding to the number of federal activities. The women meet this argument by saying that the small expense attached to the establishment of a bureau that would look out for the interests of the women could be met by cutting down in other directions. The bill that has been reported carries no specific appropriation, but provides for a woman director at a salary of $5,000 a year and assistant director at $3,500 a year. The compensation of special agents, clerks and employees, the bill provides, shall be at such a rate and in such numbers as congress may from time to time provide by appropriations.

"MY SUNSHINE LADY"

At New Park Theatre Sunday Evening, April 11—Advance Seat Sale is Heavy

When Pere Louis told his pretty little grand daughter, Babette, that the fairies looked after her welfare, that she was destined by them to become a great dancer and that her dainty toe-tips had been sprinkled by them from the mountain tops to make her so, he only told her a very tiny bit of the career that had been planned for her by these fairy friends.

In fact he overlooked entirely—in one of the simple appearing peasants newly come to his village—a far greater and much more modern male worker than those of his ideals and not until the play, "My Sunshine Lady", is well on its way to its ultimate confusion, does old Pere Louis realize what vastly superior material benefits await both he and Babette in the favors from this courtly stranger.

This happy musical novelty comes to the New Park Theatre Sunday evening, April 11 and brings the original cast and "sun-goddess" chorus, this latter being a prominent feature and exhibits a score or more of the most beautiful maidens a lands end search could reveal. In the numerous musical interruptions are many tunes of popular appeal, among them being "Cupids Sweets", "My Sunshine Lady", "Love, You'll Be Mine", "I Miss You Honey, Deed I Do", "A Night at the Riviera", "What's the Use of Lovin'", "Song of Old Brittany", "Love Needs Opposition", "In 1999", "Mere Man", "The Vampire Girl", and as many more.

Columbia Varsity Crew Braving Ice Floes on the Hudson to Get Early Start at Outdoor Training for Race with Yale

With the race with Yale only a month away, Jim Rice, Columbia's veteran rowing coach, has been badly hampered by conditions on the Hudson River. The first few days the shells were out, it took clever maneuvering to get the light craft through the shore ice and into the open water. This photograph shows some of the varsity candidates dodging the ice floes in the Hudson. Duncan Leys, captain and stroke of the varsity, is the most experienced oarsman in the squad of 120 freshmen and varsity candidates. Lansing Van Houten has been rowing No. 7. Bob

Curry and Gallicoe, both members of the 1917 crew, are seated at 2 and 4; Haacke, rowing bow, was a member of last year's varsity. Scovill is at No. 6, Hernan at 5 and Swinburn at 3.

NEW PEACE TIME ARMY IS ASSURED

ENLISTMENTS INDICATE NUMBER OF MEN WILL BE SECURED WITH EASE.

FEATURES ARE GIVEN CREDIT

Thirteen Branches of Service, Particularly the Educational Advantages, Believed to Be Chief Inducement; Three-Year Service Only.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—Enlistments in the various branches of the federal military service are on the increase. If men continue to volunteer their services the new peace-time army will be obtained with ease. The many new army features, and particularly the educational advantages offered, are unquestionably responsible for the larger interest in the army; and then there are now 13 branches of the service to choose from. Men will be accepted for three-year service only in any infantry organization serving in the United States, Panama, or Alaska, but will not be accepted for Philippine or Hawaiian service. This includes general assignment, service in the seven divisional camps and on the Mexican border. The motor transport corps can accept white soldiers only who are trained men for general assignment. Men otherwise suitable who have not had special training for this work may be enlisted for the motor transport service schools at either Camp Holabird, Md.; Camp Normandy, Tex., or Camp Boyd, Tex. Upon the completion of this special training, their wishes for assignment will be considered and if compatible with the needs of the service they will be sent to the stations which they select.

Tank corps recruits will be sent to Camp Meade, Md., for special instruction in the tank corps school, after which they may be sent to any station within the continental limits of the United States where there are tank corps units.

For the Air Service.

The air service is authorized to enlist not to exceed 1,690 men for one year, but no more than 900 of them for the lighter-than-air, or balloon branch. Men accepted for original enlistment must pass a test showing proficiency in the following trades: Automobile or airplane mechanic, engine mechanic, electrician, automobile repairman, fabric and cordage worker, instrument repairman, rigger or gas man. This test will be waived provided that the applicant can produce a certificate of graduation from a high school. To re-enlist for this branch a soldier must pass one of the foregoing trade tests, and must sign up for three years' service. Men must enlist in the air service for general assignment.

No soldiers are being accepted for chemical warfare service as this branch is filled by men who are securing advanced instruction in chemistry. Up to April 30, soldiers may enlist for three years in the cavalry for any station within the continental limits of the United States. No men are accepted for Panama, Alaska, the Philippines, nor the Hawaiian Islands. In the field artillery branch men may enlist for one year, either in the motor-drawn or horse-drawn branch. Enlistments are open for general assignment, for the Mexican border or for any of the seven divisional camps in the United States or for Panama. Coast artillery corps enlistments will be accepted up to April 30 for general assignment, or for Panama and the Philippines. Those men enlisting east of the Mississippi will be accepted only for the coast defense or Portland, Me., Boston, Narragansett bay, southern New York, Long Island sound and Chesapeake bay. West of the Mississippi may enlist for service in the coast defense of San Francisco or Puget sound. The corps of engineers is accepting men for enlistment for general assignment within the United States for Mexican border service, for special assignment to the seven divisional camps, for Panama and the Philippines. Men may enlist for one year in this branch.

For Medical Department.

The medical department is enlisting men for any station except Panama, Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands. In the veterinary corps they may enlist for any station within the United States. The dental corps is only taking men for service in the United States. The quartermaster corps will take men for service in the United States, Panama and the Hawaiian Islands, only.

Soldiers who are eligible for furlough to the reserve may re-enlist. If they elect to serve for three years, they are granted a two-months' furlough, provided they re-enlist for their present station, otherwise only one month; if for one year, a month's furlough may be granted. Soldiers who are on furlough and who secure recruits while on this furlough may have their furlough extended. If they secure one recruit they receive five days' extension; for two, 15 days; for three, 20 days, and for four recruits, they receive a month. Married men are only taken for enlistment or re-enlistment, provided they can prove to the recruiting officer that they are able to support their families without government aid.

Kava in a New Way.

The national beverage of the Samoan islanders is "kava," obtained from the dried fruit of a plant known to the botanist as Piper methysticum. The classic method of its preparation was by chewing. Water was added, and, after straining, the stuff was ready to drink. Missionaries convinced the natives that this method did not accord with the best social customs, and so nowadays they grind the kava root in a stone mortar with a stone pestle. To any unaccustomed person kava tastes rather like soap-suds, though some say it has a flavor of varnish. Many Americans, however, having acquired a liking for it, drink it by the gallon. But the native way of preparing it is too slow for them, and they prefer to use a meat grinder.

WILL YOU HELP?

What is it worth to you to beat the tonnage tax and beat it for all time to come?

Is it worth $1?

If you think it is, be prepared to give that dollar Tuesday, April 27th.

That's the day set for a drive in every town and city in Northern Minnesota to obtain members of the Minnesota Fair Tax association at $1 each.

The campaign to show the people of Minnesota that the tonnage tax is unjust, that it will destroy the prosperity of Nor. Minnesota and that it will put an end to the iron ore industry in Minnesota in 50 years, whereas it ought to, and will, last 1,000 years if there is no tonnage tax—this fight is being carried on by the people of Northern Minnesota, not by the mining companies. You, dear reader, are one of the people of Northern Minnesota. The movement needs your membership in the Minnesota Fair Tax association, and it needs your dollar.

Don't say, "Let the mining companies do it." Really, the mining companies are not so much interested. They will be hurt a little by the tonnage tax, but not so much. YOU and your business will be hurt like fury. Your taxes will go steadily UP, your business will go steadily DOWN.

The tonnage tax can be beaten—can be beaten for all time to come, but the mining companies can't do it; neither can any half dozen or any half hundred individuals do it.

The PEOPLE of Northern Minnesota can do it.

YOUR support and YOUR dollar can do it.

Will you give them?

Tuesday, April 27.

The Home Garden

In Town:
It reduces the cost of living.
It employs labor that would otherwise be idle.
It relieves the burden on transportation.
In Country:
It means better living.
It reduces grocery bills.

III. PLANTS SHOULD BE STARTED EARLY.

Many of the tender vegetables, such as tomatoes and peppers, and others for early use, should be started in the kitchen, or in a hotbed, just as early as possible. The soil for such purpose need not be very rich, but should be light and friable. Small boxes, called flats, are filled with the soil and made firm by pressing the surface with the edge of a board. The top of the soil should be at least an inch below the top of the flat to permit thorough watering. When the soil is ready the trenches for the seeds are made by pressing the edge of the board into the soil about a quarter of an inch. Celery or other fine seeds may be scattered on the surface and a thin layer of sand or light soil dusted over them. A piece of burlap or other coarse cloth laid over the surface before sprinkling will prevent the seeds from washing out of place.

Seedlings growing in such flats should be transplanted before they grow tall and spindling. In transplanting the plants should not be pulled out of the soil but should be lifted out with a knife or flat instrument pushed under the roots.

The hotbed consists of a frame covered with a glass sash. Protective heat is supplied by a layer of fermenting horse manure from one to three feet deep inside of the frame. The manure may be piled on the surface of the ground and the frame set on this. The frame having been placed, manure should be piled around it to keep out cold winds. After three or four days the soil may be put in from four to six inches deep and the seeds sown.

During the summer the hotbed may be used for cucumbers, celery, or some other crops.

A cold frame is made in about the same way as a hotbed except that no manure is used to furnish artificial heat. Cold frames cannot be started until very cold weather is passed. The first of April is early enough. Plants started inside to be transplanted to the garden later should be hardened before transplanting by exposing them gradually to the open air.—R. S. Mackintosh, horticultural specialist, Extension Division, University Farm, St. Paul.

IV. SOIL NEEDS CAREFUL PREPARATION.

An ideal garden soil has a rich, sandy loam surface with silt or clay under that. The surface soil should be from 6 to 10 inches deep and free from sticks, stones, sods, and rubbish. It should contain a large amount of decayed vegetable matter and plenty of plant food. This means the addition of stable manure, hen or sheep manure, or other fertilizers. Commercial fertilizers should be distributed before the crop is planted. They should not be allowed to come in contact with the foliage. All rubbish having been removed, the soil should be spaded or disked both ways, or plowed six or eight inches deep, and then raked or harrowed several times to form a fine, firm seed bed.

The best time to kill weeds is before they appear above the surface of the ground. Stirring the soil with a rake or similar tool destroys thousands of weeds that are not seen, and keeps the soil in good condition to encourage the growth of garden plants.—R. S. Mackintosh, horticultural specialist, Extension Division, University Farm, St. Paul.

V. GARDEN CAN DO DOUBLE DUTY.

Nearly all parts of the garden can produce more than one crop during the season. Succession cropping means that one crop follows another in the same place. Companion cropping means that two or more crops are grown near together while small, and that as one matures, additional room is provided for the later crop. For instance, radish seeds are sown with carrot seed. The radishes are soon out of the way and the carrots have all the room. Many combinations are possible.

"Dressmakers."

Concerning funny shop notices, The Morning Post of London tells a story about a village shop in the Emerald Isle. The village possessed two drapers' establishments which supplied the neighboring femininity with all it was supposed to want. One shop suddenly launched out into white letters on one window with the magic word "Corsetiere"! Not to be outdone, the rival establishment promptly had painted over the entire window: "Dressmakers, milliners, and underclothing!"

GAS MAY RISE TO HIGHER LEVEL SOON

Coupled With Rising Price There May Also be a Shortage in Summer in Month of July

OWNERS BUYING BY BARREL

The Path of the Auto Owner Never Did Appear to be a Smooth One For Any Length of Time

Coupled with the rising cost of everything else, comes the report that gasoline may soon jump in price. And with that depressing news comes the report that there may be a gasoline shortage in summer, probably the month of July.

Many car owners are buying gasoline by the barrel so as to tide them over "dry" periods, such as have occurred at various times in past years. Gasoline wholesale was last quoted at 26c a gallon, but that figure would not stand long, as the next shipment would probably mount to 27c a gallon.

Gasoline at local garages is retailed at 29.1c a gallon, which price has been maintained since March 18. Previously, gas sold for 26.9c. All last summer the price stood at 24.9c a gallon.

C. C. Bowen Buys 140 Feet Frontage On 7th and 100 Feet on Main Street From F. A. Farrar

The corner property facing the Carnegie Library on North 7th street and now fronting on Main street together with the wall paper and paint shop occupied by C. C. Bowen was sold yesterday by F. A. Farrar, the former owner, to Mr. Bowen.

The property extends 140 feet along 7th street by 100 feet on Main street and having a south and east exposure. It is an ideal site for the building of as many as five modern apartments. Mr. Bowen foresees the need of more close-in homes for Brainerd which prompted him to purchase the property for that purpose.

ORGANIZE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Mrs. William T. Coe, Chairman Organization Committee, to Address Brainerd Women

TUESDAY AFTERNOON MEETING

Community Council to be Present. Delegates to be Named to St. Cloud Convention

Next Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. William T. Coe, Chairman Organization Committee League of Women Voters, will be in Brainerd to present to the women of Brainerd the scope and meaning of the league. She will give much consideration to the conference to permanently organize the Sixth District of the League of Women Voters which will be held in St. Cloud, April 16th and 17th.

The Brainerd Women's Community Council has been invited to send delegates to this conference and through the council also the different women's organizations in the city. The delegates from the organizations to the Community Council are asked to notify the members of their organizations of the meeting on Tuesday afternoon to the end that there may be a large attendance and consequent interest in the appointment of delegates.

The League of Women Voters has been endorsed by the state council Women's Fraternal organizations. An women who thing they might be able to attend the meeting in St. Cloud are asked to be present next Tuesday, April 13th and give their names to Mrs. W. C. Rasch, that they may be appointed delegates-at-large. The time and place of meeting will be announced.

The call to this conference goes out at time when women are receiving almost daily reminders of the part they are called upon to play as voting citizens. New responsibilities confront them and it is the purpose of the League of Women Voters to bring to every woman her share of opportunity in education in citizenship. The Minnesota League was organized October 1919 at Minneapolis and since that time has been extending its organization to the various congressional districts of the state.

The conference in St. Cloud will also give the women of the district an opportunity to hear pressing problems of the day, ably presented and discussed, particularly as they affect women and children. The national chairman, Mrs. Maud Wood Park and many state leaders will be present.

IN DEFENSE OF CROWS

Deerwood Man Says the Crows Cleaned Up Small Dead Herring on Shores of Serpent Lake

In the Deerwood Enterprise a writer has stepped in and put in a defense for the crows. He writes that in 1918 gasoline, dynamite or some other cause killed the small herring in Serpent lake. The shores were lined with them and the stench was something fierce. The crows took the contract of getting away with them which was a blessing. Army worm, grasshopper and many other pests fall victim to the crow.

The farmer, continues the writer, can protect his corn with twine or warp strung across the fields. The crows fear a trap. Sometimes you may have to hang a young crow. But they eat no live fish worth mentioning, and I don't think Crow Wing county has more crows than we can assimilate, says the writer.

In response to the writer it may be stated the Crow Wing Game, Fish and Bird Protective League put on its crow extinction campaign after expert advice on such a subject has been heard from the lips of Dr. Roberts, an authority from the University of Minnesota, one of the greatest ornithologists of this country. He mentioned in his address at the New Park Theatre that Manitoba has also had a crow drive which resulted in a great reduction of the birds.

The campaign of crow extinction was only put on by the club after a thorough survey of the situation and advice from farmers and experts.

IN UNION THERE IS STRENGTH

Editor of the Dispatch:

I see by your paper that our good friends, the Baptists, are going to raise some fifty or sixty thousand dollars for additions and improvements to their church and I understand that some of our other churches contemplate spending money on their church buildings.

I have been hoping for some time that the four churches abutting the Park would get together and form one strong Union Church and then whatever money could be raised could be used in the making over of one of the churches into a community hall that would be open day and night and where the social life of our young people (and old) could be taken care of.

I ponder sometimes on what we are going to say when we get to the Pearly Gates and St. Peter asks the question "What did you do for the social welfare of the young people of your city?" What can we say, what can we say? I am afraid St. Peter will have to say—"Go below, for inasmuch as we did not."

This is written from the heart of a simple man, who has a mighty conviction that religion, God's religion, will never have a chance until denominations, creeds, form, ritual and pomp are thrown where they belong, into the discard.

Popularity of the Carmelo Company

On its next visit to Brainerd Fred Carmelo's Musical Comedy company will present "Easy Money" and "Charmagne," one a musical farce comedy with a consistent and interesting plot, the other a merry mixture of nonsense and song, snappy specialties, hilarious comedy, and pretty ensembles of beautiful girls. The Carmelo form of amusement is proving decidedly popular with local theatergoers. Without the pretensions of a big production and with a moderate price of admission the Carmelo company nevertheless presents a show that in many respects equals if indeed it does not excel many of the higher priced offerings. The company consists of fourteen people, all individual entertainers and some with exceptional cleverness and the shows they present have never failed to please local patrons.

Two Could Play at That.
In Sunday school one day a little boy ran into my son, pushing him flat on the floor. He was most indignant and when he arrived home he told his grandfather about it. Having tried in vain to have the little fellow drink as much milk as we thought necessary, his grandfather told him the best thing to do would be to drink 1-2 of milk and pretty soon he would grow big and strong so he could push the other boy over. This plan seemed a good one to my son and he was full of excitement for a few moments. But all of a sudden he apparently saw an obstacle to this plan, for he said, "But what if the other boy drinks milk, too?"—Exchange.

TAX RATE OF ONE PER CENT URGED

AGITATION FAVORS ELIMINATION OF PRESENT ASSESSMENT ON PROFITS.

LAWMAKERS DO NOT FAVOR IT

House and Senate Committees Unwilling to Approve Such Legislation—Present Plan Regarded Satisfactory Revenue Producer.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.
Washington.—There is small probability of any revenue legislation during this session of congress. Recently there has been a good deal of agitation in favor of eliminating in large part or entirely the present tax on excess profits and the substitution of a straight 1 per cent tax on all sales to consumers, but the majority members of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives and of the senate finance committee have not as yet seen their way clear to give their approval to such legislation. The excess profits tax has never been popular, but it is a good revenue producer bringing in more than $1,000,000,000 a year, and the government is reluctant to abandon it.

The treasury statisticians have not been able to furnish congress with dependable data relating to the probable revenue that could be derived from a sales tax. It is pointed out that there is no sure way of arriving at the amount of money that would be brought in by applying a 1 per cent tax on all retail sales for the reason there are no reliable statistics relating to the total retail sales of the country. In a rough way it has been estimated that a sales tax would bring in as much money as is derived from the excess profits tax, but the men who are dealing with the government's finances are not at all certain that it will turn out that way.

Treasury Faces Deficit.
Everybody concerned realizes that now is no time for taking steps relating to the government's finances unless there is certainty as to where those steps will lead. The United States treasury is now facing a large deficit, and it is a grave question as to whether the government can get through the next 18 months without another bond issue. It certainly will have to issue more bonds, the treasury officials say, if there shall be any reduction in the revenues assured under existing legislation or if there shall be additional appropriations calling for the expenditure of enormous sums of money. The ways and means committee and finance committee members are also confronted with the question as to what effect, if any, the abolition of the excess profits tax and the substitution of a sales tax would have politically. This is really the big stumbling block in the way of favorable action by these committees on the proposed repeal of the excess profits tax. Of course, the revenue brought in by the excess profits tax comes from the excessively prosperous individuals and corporations. In the end, many economists argue however, that this tax, like all others, is paid by the consumer. It is argued, for instance, that the collection of this tax on excess profits has a great deal to do with the high cost of living. Economists differ as to whether this is the fact, but they agree on the general proposition that in the last analysis this tax is charged up to the consumer and in this way, of course, does boost the cost of living.

Consumer Would Pay.
A universal sales tax would, of course, have to be paid by the consumer. Under the plan which the majority members of the ways and means committee and the finance committee have been considering the retail merchants would collect this tax for the government. Various methods for collecting the tax have been suggested. Under any and all proposed plans the tax would be assessed against the consumer. For instance, if the housewife on her trip to market Saturday night bought supplies costing $5 she would contribute 5 cents to the support of the government. The "powers that be" in congress are plainly in doubt as to whether the consumers of the country, and this means all the people, would acclaim the imposition of such a tax. In any event the majority members of the two committees in congress that are dealing with the subject desire more information before taking any step toward levying such a tax.

The leaders in congress agree that the subject of taxation is giving them a great deal of concern. The complaint that federal taxes are excessive is general. While the country was under the stress of war everybody was willing to acquiesce in any sort of a tax that would bring in money to be used in prosecuting the war; but since the war ended there has been a slow but sure change in sentiment, the leaders in congress say. Everybody realizes that there are hang-over war expenses to be met, but they are demanding that expenditures be made judiciously and that taxes be levied wisely.

The First Automobile.

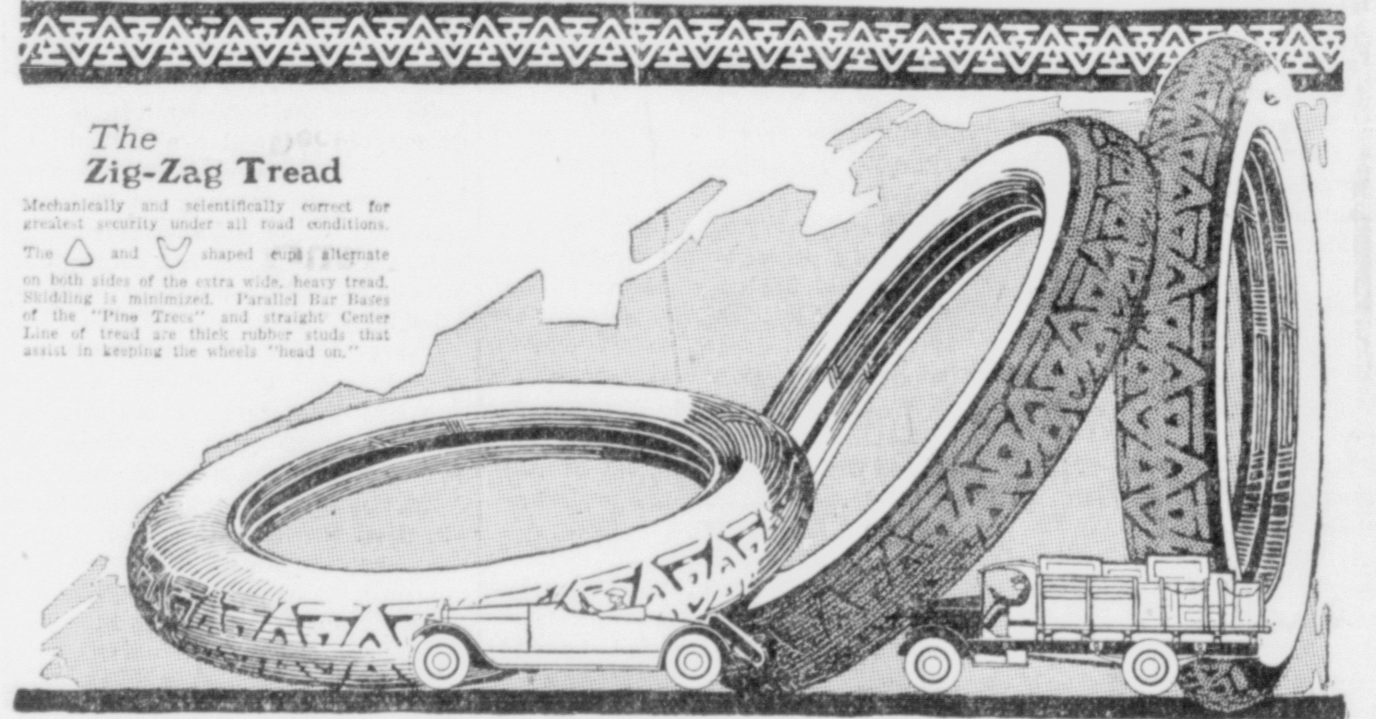

What is said to be the first automobile in the world was discovered by the officers of the A. E. F. near Le Mans, France, in the magnificent stables of the estate of the Marquis de Broc. The authentic record of this self-propelled road car is that it was built (at enormous expense) in 1878. It was used on long road trips and had a speed of about 28 miles an hour; but the marquis stopped using it, as it frightened the neighbors' horses! The car was discovered by officers who were invited to the castle by the marquis. It somewhat resembles a stagecoach in design—having a powerful engine in the front and a chimney in the rear. It was propelled by steam, much as our steam rollers are today. The small wire railing at the top was intended to hold baggage, while traveling; and it is evident that the car was fitted up with every convenience that could be contrived at the time. The car is now stored in the marquis' garage—Howard Carrington, in Leslie's.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for a list of testimonials.
